VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE OFFICIAL PASSES AWAY.

William H. Collins Dies Suddenly at His Residence in This City.

The death of William H. Collins, chief clerk of the government printing office, occurred last evening at his home, 125 10th street northeast as the result of a stroke of paralysis, which he suffered Friday morning. Mr. Collins was fifty-four years of age. He had apparently been in his usual health prior to receiving the paralytic

Mr. Collins entered the government printing office in 1871 as an apprentice, and because of his steady application and strict attention to business was, in 1878, appointed estimate clerk in the same department. When Mr. Palmer floor printer, in 1889, he made Mr. Collins his chief clerk, a position which he retained until val during which Mr. Palmer was not in charge of the office.

He had at one time been an officer in the District militia, and was prominent in Ma-sonic circles, being a member of the Naval Chapter and Columbia Commandery. He was married twenty-six years ago, and is survived by his wife, two sons and three daughters.

Expressions of Regret.

At a chapel meeting last night, held immediately after receiving the news of the death of Mr. Collins, sixty members of the night bill force of the government printing office, who had been detailed on hurried congressional work, resolutions were passed, setting forth the death of Mr. Collins, "a loved friend and fellow craftsman," who by his uniform kindness and courtesy to the employes of the government printing office has endeared himself to all.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the members of the night bill force chapel that we extend our sympathy and condolence to the eceased's family in these trying hours of their bereavement. their bereavement."

The employes of the bindery at the government printing office also adopted resolutions reciting the death of Mr. Collins and stating that in his death the public service has sustained a great loss, "not alone as an official, but a man whom to know was to be not and respect and the family is to honor and respect, and the family is deprived of a loving husband and father, whose loss they will deeply feel.

"We, the employes of the bindery feel and express our sorrow at the loss of such a useful man and public servant, and ex-tend to the family of the deceased our sincere condolence in this their hour of grief."
No arrangements for the funeral can be made until the arrival of Mr. Collins' son, who has been notified by telegram of his father's death.

SEMI-MILITARY EVENT.

Christening Ceremony Attended by Representatives of Patriotic Bodies. A ceremony quite out of the ordinary channels took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Gen. Alfred C. Hawley, 1136 25th street northwest. The occasion was the semi-military christening of little Harriet Norma Van Reuth, daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Adolph Van Reuth of 401 G street northwest. There was a large attendance of ladies of the various auxiliaries of the Spanish War Veteran ommands and officers of the regular army, National Guard, Spanish War Veterans, Grand. Army, Minute Men, Sons of Vet-

Gasoline in Kerosene Cans.

Chief Engineer Dutton of the fire department has forwarded to the Commissioners a letter from Mrs. A. C. Thompson of 1921 2d street, calling attention to the fact that the employes of a local oil company often sell gasoline in a kerosene can. Mr. Dutton says he agrees with the writer that this carelessness is dangerous. The matter has been called to the attention of the company, and also referred to the committee on the storage of explosives recently appointed by the Commissioners.

Evlyn W. McCormick ,thirty-five years old, who lives with his wife and two children at Somerset Heights, was arrested Saturday night by Detectives Cornwell and O'Brien because he is wanted in Fayette O'Brien because he is wanted in Fayette county, W. Va., where he is charged with embezzlement. It is charged that he misappropriated $23,940.11 of the funds of the Montgomery Banking and Trust Company of Montgomery, in the county and state mentioned. Bond was given for McCormick's appearance and the case was called for trial without any notice being sent to him. He accompanied Sheriff Reynolds to West Virginia Saturday night.
